++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Initially dry and sunny but rain arriving later.

Today:
A dry morning with intervals of sunshine. An area of showery rain will push into the country from the south by the afternoon, bringing outbreaks of rain across many eastern parts, with a few showers in the west. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Any residual rain will clear to the east, leaving the night largely dry with some clear spells. However, a few showers are still possible during the small hours. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Friday:
There is a chance of showers throughout the day, although many parts will remain dry with sunny spells at times. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Scattered showers on Saturday, wintry in places. Feeling cold. Drier on Sunday with sunshine. Breezy and feeling very cold. Many places dry Monday but turning colder with possible snow showers.
